

Ellen MacArthur Foundation Insight & Analysis Lead

The Ellen MacArthur Foundation has an opportunity for an exceptional individual to lead its growing Insight & Analysis team. The position is based full-time in Cowes, Isle of Wight.

The successful candidate will have extensive experience of managing complex teams and projects, and be able to effectively communicate the thought leadership of the Foundation to large audiences globally.

What we do:

The Ellen MacArthur Foundation is a charity with the mission to accelerate the transition to a circular economy. The Foundation works across four interlinking areas:

- Education – inspiring a generation to re-think the future
- Business – catalysing circular innovation across the economy
- Analysis – providing robust evidence about the benefits of the transition
- Communications - sharing informative content and stimulating dialogue around the circular economy framework

Role & Responsibilities:

- Lead the Insight and Analysis team that provides thought leadership to all the Foundation's programmes of activity
- Plan and manage the resourcing of the organisation's complex insight and analysis needs across the different programme areas
- Represent the Foundation at events that maximise the impact of the charity's work
- This is a senior role within the Foundation and the successful candidate will be part of the Leadership Team

Person specification

- Extensive experience of building and developing high-performing teams, and managing complex projects and timelines preferably within a management consultancy environment or similar.
- The intellectual curiosity and capacity to actively contribute to the development of new insights and thought leadership.
- Strong communications skills, particularly in terms of public speaking/presentation delivery to diverse audiences, globally.

- A good academic record and post-degree level qualifications in business, economics, engineering, science or other relevant discipline, plus relevant business experience.
- Language skills are essential.
